

Posted: December 10, 2014

Students help those in need

During the first two weeks of Advent, students from Holy Cross Catholic Secondary School have taken the Advent call "to help those in need" to heart through several Kingston Street Retreats. These outreach activities took place at the St. Vincent de Paul Society, the Salvation Army, Home Base Housing, and other Kingston social. Students in the "Crusaders in Community Service" Social Action Club helped sort clothes and children's toys, and prepared food for the lunch program at St. Vincent de Paul as part of their Street Retreat. Students saw firsthand the dedication, compassion and care by both staff and patrons. The money collected through this Friday's Advent collection at Holy Cross will be going to the outreach program for homeless youth at St. Vincent de Paul.